

Plan big.

Codes (like this) store loads of information, including URLs and web addresses. You've probably seen them in magazines (like this) and wondered what they're for.

Point the camera on your smart phone at that tiny little box above to unlock a new world of possibility.

We'll wait.

Now you can see for yourself how planning big can shape Emory's future.

Your planned gift will not only establish your legacy, it will ensure ours. Emory can do remarkable things thanks to you.

Success starts with a plan, made possible with a gift from someone with the imagination to look deeper. To search for meaning inside the square and outside the box.

Someone with the vision to plan big.

Like you.

Contact the Emory Office of Gift Planning and let's discuss your plan.
